Knowledge Organiser: How significant was the threat of France to Britain?

This topic investigates the threat posed by an increasingly		Chronology: what happened on these dates?		Vocabulary: define these words.
powerful French empire to Britain throughout the 18 th and 19 th centuries. You will learn about the key historical events and battles that intensified this threat, ultimately deciding at which point the threat reached its most severe. Our second order concept is SIGNIFICANCE.		1756 – 1763	The Seven Years War was fought between Britain and France.	Independence	Existing separately from other people or things; an independent nation is not controlled by another country.
Summarise your learning			The British surrender control of	French	An uprising in France against the
Topic 1: Why America was a significant cause of rivalry	The continent of North America offered huge colonial opportunities to the British and French empires. They had the largest numbers of settlers there and both wanted to control the most land. This led to the Seven Years War. It ended in 1763 with the Treaty of Paris – this gave French land in American to Britain.	1781	America after the War of Independence.	Revolution	monarchy which resulted in the establishment of France as a republic
		September 1793 – July 1794	The Reign of Terror in France – many French nobles are executed, including King Louis XVI.	Guillotine	A machine with a blade, used to cut off a person's head.
		1804	Napoleon Bonaparte crowns himself emperor of France.	Treaty t	A binding formal agreement between two or more countries. Usually takes place after a war.
Topic 2: Why the French Revolution was significant for	The French support of the Americans during the War of Independence in 1776 led to a raising of taxes in France and inspired the ordinary people that revolution was possible. The overthrowing of the French monarchy led to panic and fear amongst the British	1803 – 1815	The Napoleonic Wars are fought as Napoleon looks to conquer Europe.
		21 st October 1805	The Battle of Trafalgar	Threat	When a person or country is likely to cause damage or danger.
Britain	nobility and monarchy. They feared that revolution might spread to their country.  Out of the French revolution emerged	18 th June 1815	The Battle of Waterloo	Trafalgar	Southwest of Spain and the place of an important naval battle.
Topic 3: Why the Royal	Napoleon Bonaparte, a seemingly unbeatable military general and eventual emperor of France. His attempt to conquer Europe led to war with Britain. The Royal	Causes of the French Revolution		Waterloo	A village in Belgium and the place of an important land battle.
Navy was significant in		Absolute monarchy  Growth of industry and the rise of the middle class
the Battle of Trafalgar	Navy, commanded by Lord Horatio Nelson was essential in maintaining control of the seas, as seen at the Battle of Trafalgar.  Whilst Britain controlled the seas, Napoleon	(00)	Tong-term Increasing poverty	Prussia	An important German kingdom and ally of Britain at Waterloo.
Topic 4: Why the British Army was significant in	was conquering the mainland of Europe. The British army prevented his control of Spain and Portugal, pushing him back to France. Napoleon's last stand was at Waterloo in Belgium. The greatest French commander was about to meet Britain's greatest commander, the Duke of Wellington. It ended in Napoleons defeat and exile to St. Helena.	Growth of new ideas e.g. everyone is born equal  The influence of America  The influence of America  Tax burden on the Third Estate		Exiled	Expelled from your home country.
the Battle of Waterloo				Significance	Determining how impactful or life- affecting a historical event has been.