June 2022

Dear Student,

RE: Year 11 Examinations: Study leave, Warm up and Revision Sessions

From Monday 13th June 2022, examination study leave will begin for Year 11.

To support your continued revision and success in your remaining examinations, we will be providing teacher expertise and advice through our warm up and revision sessions.

Warm up sessions (WU)

Warm up sessions are held directly ahead of each examination and are compulsory.

For morning examinations, warm up sessions begin at 8:35am and for afternoon examinations, they begin at 11:45am.

They support you in completing your examinations and enable us to confirm that everyone who should be in school, is.

You should be punctual and refer to the warm up board on the Year 11 corridor for details of the location and the teacher.

We know that students who attend these sessions will benefit from the information shared and will be more relaxed ahead of the examinations in comparison with students who arrive last minute and are not settled.

Revision sessions (RS)

We are also providing revision sessions for subjects where you may not have seen your teacher for a few days.

We would highly recommend that you attend the relevant revision sessions ahead of the examinations.

These will take place during period 3 (11:15am – 12:15pm) according to the timetable shown in the table below.

They are designed to support you ahead of an afternoon examination or an examination on the following day.

For both the warm up and revision sessions, staff will be phoning home for students who are not present to ensure you do not miss an examination, so please ensure you arrive promptly.
