BookTrust / Bookstart

Dual language

BookTrust is dedicated to encouraging families of all cultures to engage with books. We want to ensure that every child has access to books and the opportunity to enjoy reading. We offer dual-language (DL) books and guidance to families that have English as an additional language (EAL), so that they can access the same important Bookstart messages as others.

Why it matters

Research recommends that families talk and share books in their home language as well as in English. It has been shown that EAL children have better thinking and reasoning skills as they need to be more flexible in understanding language.

Offering DL books as part of the Bookstart programme is a great way to introduce sharing books to parents and carers who may not feel confident in doing so entirely in English. It also gives practitioners the opportunity to signpost where parents will be able to find more DL titles, such as at their local library.
