

Article to help parents during lockdown

The hardest thing about being a parent is there is no instruction manual.

Write an article for despairing parents entitled:

‘HOW TO COPE WITH TEENAGERS DURING LOCKDOWN’.

Some ideas to help you:

- Start with a catchy headline that makes it clear what the article is about
- An opening paragraph introducing yourself is a good idea
- Think of 3 pieces of advice you would give with reasons and examples.
- Base it on your own experiences
- Use humour to get your ideas across in an engaging way
- When you have written your article, you could share it with your parents/guardians.

Can you make 24?

- Use all four numbers, but use each number only once.
- You can add, subtract, multiply and divide
- Note answers from last week at the bottom
